Figure 6: Adjusted Rand index between the communities detected in the two monoplex PPI networks individually and the communities identified when these networks are integrated into a 2-layer multiplex network. We considered only the common nodes between every pair of monoplex network (i.e., considering the partitions reduced to the intersection of the two sets of elements).